Celebrating the 10th Anniversary of the Renovation of Baltimore's City Hall

In 1973, the citizens of Baltimore voted to renovate their City Hall, rather than replace it with a new municipal executive office building. It has now been ten years since the renovation was completed, and Baltimoreans can rejoice in the wise choice that they made. Thanks to that decision, they can now enjoy the graceful architecture and history-laden atmosphere that can only be found in a building with a past.

The architectural firm of Meyers, D'Aleo and Patten (now Meyers and D'Aleo) and the interior design firm of Rita St. Clair and Associates are to be commended for their award winning feat of combining modern, space-efficient design with the lovely Victorian lines created by original architect, George Fredericks. It is ultimately the citizens of Baltimore, however, who should be given credit for deciding to make Baltimore's City Hall a building with a past on which we can look back, and a future to which we can look forward.
